How will the team ensure that stakeholders, and in particular parents and/or guardians, were able to provide meaningful input into the needs assessment process?	Stakeholders are able to provide meaningful feedback by participating on the LCMSW school council. They share input and provide feedback regarding the needs assessment process at this time. These individuals are included in leadership/school council meetings throughout the year and are aware of school functions, data, etc. Data is also collected from parents through perception surveys.

2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, blying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	Perception data was collected from teacher and stakeholder surveys. Additional perception data was collected from students from student health surveys. The Comprehensive Needs Assessment evaluation tool was shared with all faculty to evaluate each of the standards listed under data collection analysis. A family input for school improvement survey was shared with parents (48 responses), Title I perception data was collected from students regarding program effectiveness, and district level considerations were added based upon input from Strategic Plan focus group discussion.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	Teachers, stakeholders, and students perceived LCMSW to be an academically challenging and supportive environment for learning. There are many opportunities given to support adolescents in both academic and social parameters. Areas of need included offering additional opportunities for parent involvement and culturally responsive instruction. According to the 2021 CNA survey to faculty, there were improvements in three leadership standards (2, 3, and 7). There were decreases in three coherent instructional system standards (Instruction 9, assessment 3, and assessment 4), college and career readiness, and structures that promote communication with families and community. All of these data added to other input that we should work on consistent practices, counseling, and increasing PLC and MTSS fidelity.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	A variety of data sources were used to analyze school processes, but we took the challenges and restrictions that the COVID 19 pandemic into consideration. Many programs and processes (classroom guidance, guest speakers, WIN enrichment, in person conferences, student led conferences, and more) were forced out of practice this year. We look forward to returning to normal next year.
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")	There was a reduction in documented PLC minutes in order to allow for time spent to plan for hybrid instruction. Failure data started out at an extreme elevation this year, but through faculty trainings, data analysis, and input, the end of year retention rate was not dramatically different than those of previous years. Teachers came up with creative ways to engage students in clubs, remediation on team WINs, after-school sports, and virtual conferences. Processes were different, but outcomes were not necessarily so.

What achievement data did you use?	Achievement data was collected from content area departments for the CNA process. At the time of the faculty input, common assessments, failure data, DRC Beacon, and universal screeners were the most recent and reliable sources of information. Since then, we have received 2021 GMAS results.
What does your achievement data tell you?	Achievement data is varied in performance and growth. GMAS proficiency scores declined in every content area and grade (except for 7th grade ELA). This too should be viewed through the lens of pandemic conditions, several months of lost instruction, and no 19-20 EOG results. Despite this, we had a high rate of participation. Universal screener data has remained consistent both this year and in longitudinal comparisons. DRC Beacon indicated that there was much room for student improvement, but it appeared to be a more difficult test than the EOG for math and reading. We intend to use this interim assessment to provide predictive insight into GMAS performance next year.
What demographic data did you use?	Demographic data was pulled from the statewide longitudinal data system.
What does the demographic data tell you?	Demographic data indicates that the demographics of the school remain fairly consistent and relatively stable, although there have been upward trends in multiracial and ECD students. This was our second year as a Title I school (no longer targeted assistance model).

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	This category had the most change from exemplary to operational status. This specifically related to timely interventions, alignment in common assessments, and processes to collaboratively analyze results. Because of the additional expectations placed on serving both virtual and face-to-face learners, teachers were spread thin. This was the area that suffered the most.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Surprisingly, this area increased this year according to teacher input. Leadership rose from operational to exemplary in terms of initiating and managing change, supporting effective systems, and monitoring teachers. Again, this perception data could be based on the effects of COVID-19. Administrators made tough decisions early on (all faculty sharing responsibility of face to face and virtual) but then offered additional methods to support teachers and protect their planning time (reducing documented PLCs to monthly sessions). Following State Superintendent Woods's direction, leadership focused on "Compassion over Compliance" this year. While teachers expressed frustration, morale remained high, and we are moving into next year with the highest teacher retention rate in recent years.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	While all of the professional capacity standards were rated the same, there were less formal PLCs this year. This reduction in data-analysis and collaboration could have contributed to lower EOG data (as one measure of student learning), but there were other areas of growth to balance out teacher learning. Trainings and hands-on experience with virtual platforms and delivery models are now embedded into how educators present content to students. Another area of personal growth was when all teachers participated in a self-selected book study at the semester and were able to share ideas thoughtfully and openly. Moving forward, with all students being present and accounted for on campus, we are hopeful to get back to more traditional PLCs focusing on collaboration, student results, and learning.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Family and community engagement looked very different this year: virtual conferences, no outside guests allowed in the building, no field trips into the community, etc. While there were definite benefits to learning how to conference virtually (access, length of sessions, etc.), there were also frustrations with the inability to reach and communicate with a variety of stakeholders easily. Input from families indicates that we need to work on consistent practices (homework, grading, communication) as a school.

Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Emergency management drills are run monthly. Staff are trained on dealing with crisis situations. LCMSW has a school wide discipline plan in place. Daily schedules are also in place to ensure smooth transitions. Equity in scheduling helps to ensure heterogeneity across teams. Teachers, counselors, and MTSS committee members are in place to monitor student performance and to apply both behavioral and academic interventions. A continuum of services are provided to our special education students. Students below grade level that do not qualify for Title services receive remediation through our WIN Reading and WIN math classes.

Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	All children received free and reduced lunch this year, in light of the pandemic.
--	---

Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	GMAS results were disappointing, as we showed declines in every category except for 7th grade ELA in comparison to the 18-19 results. That being said, we would like to see state results of the test as a greater indicator of performance. We intend to spend more time disaggregating data within PLCs in the fall in order to be prepared for 21-22 EOG assessments. There were positive achievement data noted from assessments throughout the year. Included here is the average scale score for the Winter administration of universal screeners for the past three years. (There was no Spring administration in 19-20, hence the use of Winter data.) Despite the challenges that students faced this past year, there did not appear to be much impact on overall skills achievement in the norm-referenced assessment. In fact, there were gains in most grades/content areas and longitudinal growth overall.

3.1 Stakeholders, Serving Children, PQ

Required Questions

1 In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders) was accomplished.	Input was solicited from multiple sources. School surveys targeted school staff, parents, students and community stakeholders. In addition, information from the LCSS Strategic plan was used. This plan contained multiple sources of data from other school leaders in addition to those listed above. The LCMSW school council was involved in this process providing feedback during the needs assessment process. The entire faculty and staff participated in the CNA process. Whereas in the past, staff members were divided into groups and used the GLISI format to work through the CNA process. The leadership team, which included administration, teachers, staff members, counselors, etc. identified targeted areas of need, worked through the root cause analysis process, established SMART goals, then determined the action steps needed to address each area of concern.
2 Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	To ensure that low income and minority children are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of field teachers, students are placed based on multi-criteria equity reports to ensure equality. Equity reports are then used to ensure that all teams are heterogeneous in their makeup. This includes ECD, special education (when applicable), and ethnic/minorities rates. Each team at LCMSW is represented by the overall demographic of the school. Students are also given a performance rating prior to scheduling to ensure that all teams are academically heterogeneous. Inexperienced teachers are identified and efforts are made to ensure students do not have teachers with less than 3 years of experience in immediate years. Teachers that are not considered PQ/out of field are placed on remediation plans at the begin of the school year.
3 Provide a general description of the Title I instructional program being implemented at this Title I School. Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).	Math and Reading Title classes are offered at LCMSW. Reading Plus (Title Reading) is the primary instructional software program used to provide instruction and to monitor student growth for reading. While computer-based instruction is used by students to address basic skill development, it is only one part of a blended model that LCMSW has adopted. Students also receive direct services within the class period. Students are pulled individually and in small groups to work on basic skill development. During this time, students also work on activities that bridge these skills to grade level content. Our Title teachers work with other ELA and math teachers to ensure that student needs are identified and met. Students that exit the program are continually monitored throughout the school year to ensure that gaps do not develop in their learning.

4 If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in constation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement mtiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	NA

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.2 PQ, Federally Identified Schools, CTAE, Discipline

Required Questions

5 If applicable, describe how the school will support, coordinate, and integrate services with early childhood programs at the school level, including strategies for assisting preschool children in the transition from early childhood education programs to local elementary school programs.	NA
6 If applicable, describe how the school will implement strategies to facilitate effective transitions for students from middle grades to high school and from high school to postsecondary education including: Coordination with institutions of higher education, employers, and local partners; and Increased student access to early college, high school, or dual or concurrent enrollment opportunities or career counseling to identify student interest and skills.	8th grade students participate in 9th grade transition meetings in January to ensure that they complete an initial HS graduation plan and register for classes. 8th grade students also participate in a 9th grade orientation each May. All students that receive special education services participate in transition meetings. This helps to ensure that services are aligned. These meetings are coordinated through our system special education department. LCMSW and LCMSE coordinate a job fair each year to include various vendors, professions and organizations. In addition, LCMSW offers a variety of advanced content classes to students, including Honors Algebra I, Honors HS Physical Science, Intro to Business and Technology and Basic Agriculture. Another way that LCMSW teachers ensure that 6th graders have a positive transition is by hosting a "6th Grade Boot Camp" during the summer. This is a way for students to become familiar with teachers, classmates, processes, and the school building prior to the start of school.
7 Describe how the school will support efforts to reduce the overuse of discipline practices that remove students from the classroom, specifically addressing the effects on all subgroups of students.	LCMSW has a school-wide discipline plan in place. This plan is monitored by administration and our school PBIS committee. Our PBIS "ROCK" plan provides continuity in behavioral expectations across all school settings. Tracking forms are used at the classroom level to monitor and document minor discipline issues. This 6 step process (minimum requirement for teachers) starts over every 9 weeks. The primary focus of our "ROCK" plan is to teach appropriate behavior in the context of the various environments within our school. Students that habitually break the code of conduct are placed on a behavior plan that focuses on extinguishing unwanted behaviors. These students also receive weekly counseling through our guidance department. Additional services, including mentoring and counseling through ASPIRE are also available for our students. Our PBIS committee continually monitors the effectiveness of our PBIS program and make changes as needed to address identified concerns.
